

Celebration of Love

Deep and restless... like the ocean
Happy and hopeful... like the laughter of children
Limitless and free... like a misted horizon
May love enter me lightly and dwell within me like a friend.

Breathless and fragrant... like breeze across a rose bower
Heart-stopping and ardent... like lips touching flesh
Sparkling and glittering... like night time's first star
May love enter me softly and touch my soul with light.

Courageous and humble... like a bright warrior
Generous and gentle... like the rays of the Sun
Whispered and intimate... like secret winds across leaves
May love enter me tenderly and brush my spirit with its wings.

Warm and bright... like the flame of a candle
Tinted and magickal... like the sky's rainbows
Tested and true... like the love of the Goddess
May love enter me completely and guide me ever in its way.

May love enter me lightly and dwell within me like a friend
May love enter me gently and touch my soul with light
May love enter me tenderly and brush my spirit with its wings
May love enter me completely and guide me ever in its way

May love touch me with life
Enfold me in its power
May it cast out my fears
And drive the darkness from my mind
May I live forever in the Light of Love.
